LATAM Airlines News

NEW NON-STOP ROUTES TO SOUTH AMERICA

In August of 2015, LATAM Airlines Group announced that LAN and TAM would adopt a single name and identity: LATAM Airlines, to become the largest airline group in South America.

For the fourth consecutive year, LATAM Airlines Group is the leading airline in the Americas on the Dow Jones Sustainability 'World' Index, as responsible investment reaches new heights.

Earn and redeem qualifying miles with LATAM Airlines frequent flyer program, or any other oneworld® members' frequent flyer programs.

We are proud to announce the only non-stop flight from Boston to São Paulo, Brazil, with continuing service to other destinations within Brazil and other South American countries.

The company has also launched other non-stop scheduled routes: Miami to Salvador de Bahia, in addition to the seasonal flights from Las Vegas to São Paulo.

We now offer NEW non-stop routes from São Paulo, Brazil to: Barcelona, Frankfurt, Johannesburg, Lisbon, London, Madrid, Milan, Munich, Paris, Rome and Tel Aviv. We also fly non-stop from Santiago, Chile to Melbourne, the longest flight in our history.

LATAM Airlines is currently investing US $400 million to renovate and transform the cabins of over 200 aircraft as part of its vision to optimize the travel experience with more options, flexibility and personalization.
